

MAN SEEKS DEATH AFTER INFLUENZA KILLS WIFE

Valdemar Hausen Says Life Is Not Worth While and Asks to Be Left with Body—Dying from Gas.

Dying in the Knickerbocker Hospital and a prisoner besides, is Valdemar Hausen, twenty-seven, of No. 100 West 114th Street, where lies the body of his wife, who died from Spanish influenza last night after an illness of a week. Hausen has a restaurant at 115th Street, near Amsterdam Avenue, and had been married four years. He begged his relatives and those of his wife to leave him alone with the body at 3 o'clock this morning. When George W. Faust, his brother-in-law, who is a detective in Police Commissioner Enright's office, called at 8 o'clock this morning he was unable to get any response and got into the apartment with a pass key.

He found the body of Hausen, partly dressed, on the bed with a rubber tube in his mouth, the other end being attached to a gas jet. Dr. McMahon of the Knickerbocker Hospital worked on the unconscious man for three hours without restoring him to consciousness. He told his wife's relatives before they left that life was no longer worth living.

BIG HOTELS LINE UP TO CUT HOT FOOD OFF AT 9 AT NIGHT

Conservation in Eatables and Fuel Object of New Scheme in New York.

Following the lead of John McE. Bowman, manager of five of New York's largest hotels, to confine the eating by his guests to a time table basis on all meals and serve no hot food after 9 o'clock at night, the Astor, the Bessie, the Breton Hall and the Great Northern, on being told of Mr. Bowman's action by The Evening World to-day, declared the measure would be a great help in food and fuel conservation.

Several hotels already have been practicing this conservation, and their public dining rooms have been closed after 9 o'clock. Manager Bowman of the Waldorf and the McAlpin Hotels, when he heard of the plan, immediately started plans to carry out a similar scheme. Other large hotels which cater to the after-theatre throngs and which would be most affected will take steps to get in line, following a conference of the Hotel Men's Association of New York this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The plan will be discussed at the conference by Horton F. White, Deputy Fuel Administrator of New York County, appointed in special reference to hotels.

The new schedule for meals at public restaurants of the hotels follows: Breakfast, 6:30 A. M. to 10 A. M. Luncheon, 12 noon to 2:30 P. M. Dinner, 6 P. M. to 9 P. M. This order will not affect banquets or private functions. Those diners who play a good knife and fork after 9 P. M. may partake of rusks and ship's biscuits, but barbecues are taboo.

say it was directly through the information so given. "Under the circumstances, I don't want to examine you as a witness or to ask you any questions which might be to your disadvantage."

It was testified that on Aug. 16 last, Loehmer went to Miss O'Sullivan's home and there was introduced by her to Petty Officer Mohr of the George Washington.

Mohr, it was declared, said the vessel was leaving next day for France. Loehmer, according to the testimony, asked questions concerning the vessel, convoy methods and other things regarding the trip.

Mrs. Clara Kunken of No. 1215 Washington Street testified that she and her daughter, Mrs. Irene Oliver; Miss Alice Young of the same address, Lieut. Murray of the Naval Intelligence Service, stationed at Stevens College, Hoboken, and Lieut. Ralph Burns of the army went to the O'Sullivan home on the night in question.

They were introduced to Loehmer and Petty Officer Mohr, who was intoxicated, Mrs. Kunken testified. She did not know at that time that Loehmer was a German, she said, but Miss O'Sullivan told her of it later. He and Mohr were alone in a room when she arrived, the witness said.

Her party stayed there only a half hour, she stated, and she told Mrs. Oliver she was surprised that Miss O'Sullivan would have a German in her house when she had United States officers as guests.

MURRAY BECOMES SUSPICIOUS OF LOEHMER'S VISITS. Lieut. Murray was suspicious, it was said, and made it his business to meet Miss O'Sullivan again. She invited him to her home. On three occasions he met Loehmer there, she said. Other witnesses testified that Miss O'Sullivan visited Loehmer in Woodcliff six times and that on three occasions Lieut. Murray was with her. Liquor was supplied by Loehmer, it was said. Mrs. Oliver testified that Miss O'Sullivan lived a week at the McAlpin last June.

When Miss O'Sullivan was informed by Commissioner Stanton that she was under arrest and that he did not care to ask her any questions she insisted on making a statement.

She had not had the slightest intention of getting information from the officers for Loehmer, she declared, and never thought of Loehmer in the light of an enemy.

She met him while she was helping in a war camp community drive in Hoboken, when he made contributions to her, she stated. She was impressed, she said, by his charming manner and brilliant conversation.

When she brought the officers to the house, she asserted, she did not arrange to have Loehmer there. It just happened along.

Miss O'Sullivan was paroled for a further hearing to-morrow, and Loehmer was held in $2,500 bail for the grand jury.

WARTIME RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

Actress Gives Simple Inexpensive Recipe for Streaked or Faded Gray Hair.

Mrs. Mackie, the well known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "Gray streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following simple remedy that you can make at home."

"Merely get a small box of Orlax powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box."

"You need not hesitate to use Orlax, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlax powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal tar products or their derivatives."

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray headed person look many years younger."—Advt.

BLAME PEACE TALK FOR DELAY IN THE FOURTH LOAN DRIVE

New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Corporation, $1,000,000. F. W. Woolworth, $250,000. Meyer & Brown, $224,000. Firestone Tire Company, $210,000. Jacquelin & De Coppel (additional), $200,000.

Mrs. Russell Sage, $200,000. American Hard Rubber Company, $132,500. U. S. Rubber Reclaiming Company, $112,500. Clark, Dodge & Co., $100,000.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford announced that it was borrowing $1,000,000 against the compensation it is to receive from the Government and subscribing for bonds to the full amount.

New York thus far has done about one-third of what she should have done by this time, and the country as a whole has done about one-half of what it should have done.

Nobody is discouraged, however. And it is again pointed out that the official figures at any given time cannot include all the subscriptions that have been made up to that time. It is also pointed out that many of the individuals and firms whose ultimate subscriptions will be large are undoubtedly busy now in the task of getting their cash together.

Honduras Day was observed at the Altar of Liberty in Madison Square when the flag of the Central American country was raised this afternoon. Rafael H. Valle, secretary of the Honduras Special Mission, read the address which was to have been delivered by Don J. Antonio Lopez Gutierrez, the Honduran Minister, who is ill with influenza. He said in part:

"If the Germans want peace, let them ask for it as supplicants. Let them be reconciled to suffer such conditions as the victors may impose upon them, trusting to their generosity. No peace is possible with such people. It would leave the question undecided and grant immunity to them for their horrible crimes."

Martin Vogel, Assistant United States Treasurer, speaking of the Germans, said:

"We want no terms. We won't listen to any terms and we won't stop till we reach Berlin."

Mrs. Lincoln J. Valentine laid flowers on the altar. Between 5,000 and 6,000 were present, including 100 soldiers and 100 bluejackets with a band.

A part of the tanker Kellogg, which was torpedoed off the Jersey coast, was exhibited in the Liberty Loan drive at Borough Hall, Brooklyn, today. The ceremonies were in charge of Deputy Public Works Commissioner Joseph Fennelly, whose brother was on one of the ships which rescued the crew of the tanker. Postmaster Burton was among the speakers, while Miss Muggie Tyte of the Metropolitan Opera Company sang.

The Brooklyn Liberty Loan Committee to-day urged all residents of the borough to buy bonds there in order that the quota may be reached. It was pointed out that many residents bought their bonds in Manhattan.

Subscriptions to date total $31,996,300—over a million dollars behind the daily quota.

A hearse bearing the Kaiser's coffin, with a figure representing Uncle Sam sitting on top, and guarded by six other figures dressed all in red as devils, marked the Liberty Loan parade and rally of the inside machinists and blacksmiths at the Morse Dry Dock and Repair Company in Brooklyn to-day.

Capt. Gregory Odell and Private Harry Bowers of the 42d Battalion, Royal Highlanders, told of their experiences at the front. After the addresses the funeral services of the Kaiser were held, a sermon was preached, and the coffin set up in flames with red powder.

At least $20,000,000 in subscriptions is the goal set by the Metropolitan Canvas Committee for the Liberty Loan Concert to be given to-morrow night at the Metropolitan Opera House. High representatives of the Allied armies will be present, including soldiers from the most famous battle fields. Among the singers representing Allied nations will be Gina Bay and Bl. Jun, Gabriell Glia for France, Leonore Sparkes for Great Britain, Pasquale Amato for Italy and Anna Case for the United States. The accompaniments will be by the Metropolitan orchestra.

This afternoon forty members of the Stock Exchange paraded down Broadway from the Altar of Liberty, bringing with them a 210-millimetre German mortar. An emplacement had been prepared for it at the Broad Street side of the Exchange.

The day's programme also included meetings at the Liberty Theatre, the Liberty Bell, the Liberty Bank, the Union League Club and at many points in the Avenue of the Allies.

New York may be the women workers for the loan are not. Mrs. John T. Russell Jr., Chairman of the Women's Branch, announced to-day that all the groups of women workers are ahead of their proportional quota, which means that the daily average of their subscriptions is more than enough to meet all full quotas if the rate is continued.

The school children of Greater New York have conducted a successful campaign. In the first week they took subscriptions aggregating $7,747,159, and this amount was distributed among 48,000 individual subscribers. By borough the figures are: Brooklyn, $2,881,000; Manhattan, $2,802,700; Bronx,

$1,548,300; Queens, $523,600; Richmond, $11,450.

Corps. Mouvot of the French Foreign Legion will speak at the theatre in Times Square at 8 o'clock to-night. May Irwin will appear at 9 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The Metropolitan Division of the Liberty Loan Committee has issued an appeal for many more helpers. Volunteers may communicate with Mrs. Plummer, telephone Murray Hill 7399.

KAISER'S DENTIST SPEAKS FOR THE LIBERTY LOAN

Dr. Davis Tells How Wilhelm Announced Wilson Would Not Have Place at Peace Table.

A little time often makes quite a difference, as the old song goes. This was apparent at noon to-day when 15,000 persons listened to Dr. Arthur N. Davis, former dentist of the Kaiser, but a few shots for the Liberty Loan campaign from the steps of the Sub-Treasury.

Some time before Dr. Davis left Germany, he told the enthusiastic crowd, the Kaiser addressed him as follows: "President Wilson will not have a seat at the peace table, and also, the German people will never admit defeat."

William H. Edwards, collector of Internal Revenue, also spoke. He said: "No German limitation of peace can deceive us. The big red blood stained hand of the Kaiser has put crepe on too many doors of our American homes to-day for us to forgive and forget."

Other speakers were Daniel H. Hinchey, Mayor of Colar, Alaska, and Lieut. Morton of the British Army.

The Paulist Chorale, under the leadership of Father William J. Finn made an imposing sight in their party blue uniforms. Clarence Whitcomb of the Metropolitan Opera Company sang "Freedom for All Forever" and "When the Boys Come Home."

OTIS SKINNER LOANS $4 TO CHILD TO GET A BOND

"Mr. Skinner, will you lend me four dollars to start a Liberty Bond drive?"

This question from a five-year-old child came to-day as one of the enthusiastic results of Mrs. Otis Skinner's appeal to the Fifth Avenue and 42d Street noonday crowd from the steps of the Liberty Theatre to buy "a sacrifice bond." The money was loaned, and also a Liberty Bond appeal went home to nearly a hundred shop girls and clerks who forewore their candies for the next four months to do their "bit."

Mr. Skinner likened the war to the earth's greatest drama, staged by Uncle Sam for our benefit and comfort, and as only the price of a Liberty Bond for admission.

"Germans started the war," he declared, "and it's up to us to buy bonds and show her that she can't stop it."

Henry Warner, alias Jimmy Valentine, warned against the dangers of an early peace.

"We must beware of this 'Kamrad' talk," he said, urging buying of bonds. "If we stop here the boys will have to stop over there. And we don't want peace yet."

Others at the meeting were Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jarrow, Florence Nash and Mrs. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett, Helen and James Lackaye, William Hinchey and daughter, Alice.

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in a way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.
